Songs of War and Peace

SATB and Piano

Program Notes: Songs of War and Peace

Songs of War and Peace (1998), is a setting of four poems by major Israeli poets, with translations by outstanding American And Israeli poets, on the complex, and all too timely, topic of war and peace. I chose poems collected in the compelling book After the First Rain, a title which, in colloquial Hebrew, also means "After the Shooter." All poems are used by permission. These poems represent the sadness and shock of the post-Rabin environment, although some sing of hope as well. I chose four poems: And How My Brother is Cain (Azriel Kaufman), The Rain is Ready to Fall (Eytan Eytan); Peace (Ella Bat-Tzion) and Peace Poem After a Ugaritic Inscription (Eli Netzer). The first poem is one of devastation and its aftermath; the second of ambivalence and acceptance; the third of peace; and the fourth, a command to end the cycle of war. I composed Songs of War and Peace in commemoration of Israel's Fiftieth Anniversary. It was performed at the Carter Peace Center in Atlanta, Georgia, where it was presented by the Israeli Consul. An orchestrated version was commissioned by the Minnesota Center Chorale, directed by J. Michele Edwards, in 2008. For additional information visit www.judithshatin.com
